You can check your paper 3 consecutive times every day with this ‘Resubmit’ button.
After using it 3 times, go back to the inbox and use another ‘Open’ button to check your paper.

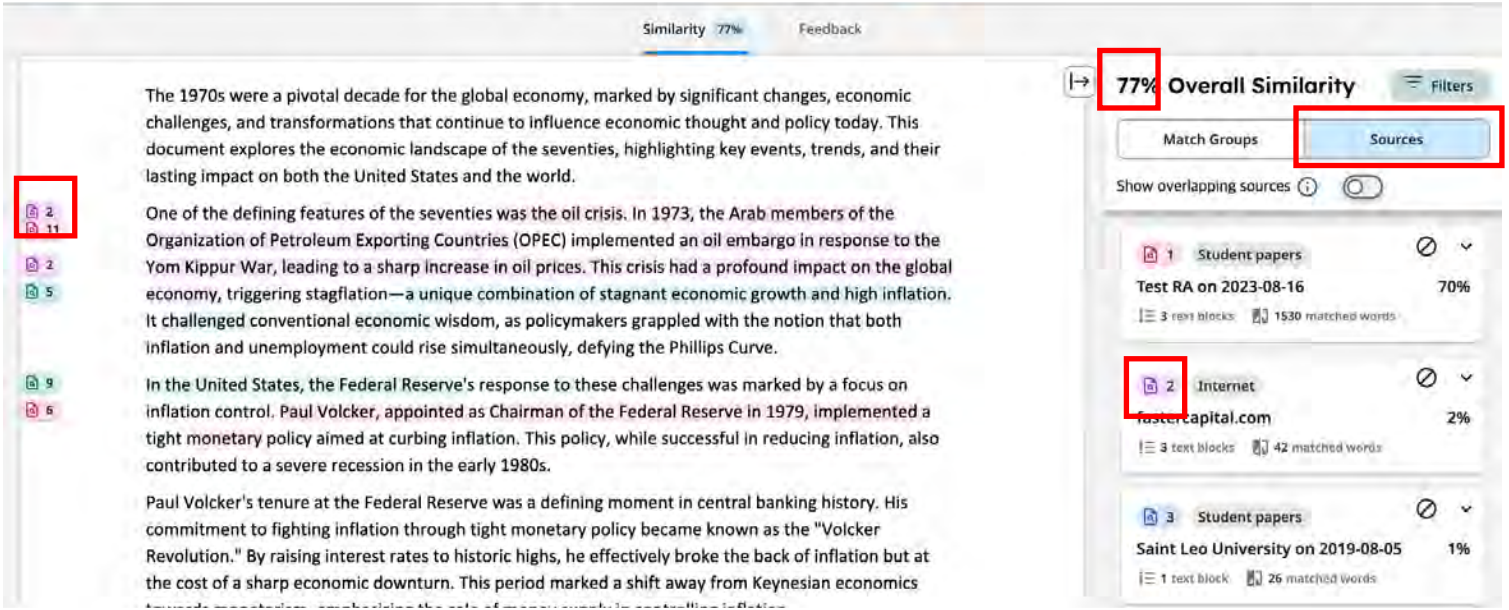

7. Click ‘Resubmit’ button, and upload your revision by clicking ‘Browse Files’ or drag-and-drop the file.

Similarity result

1. The highlighted sections in the text indicate matches with materials in the Turnitin database. The number (%) in the right sidebar represents the overall similarity percentage. Clicking the "Sources" button will sort the matches, showing the primary source with the most significant matches first. Clicking on each source will take you to the matched section within the text.

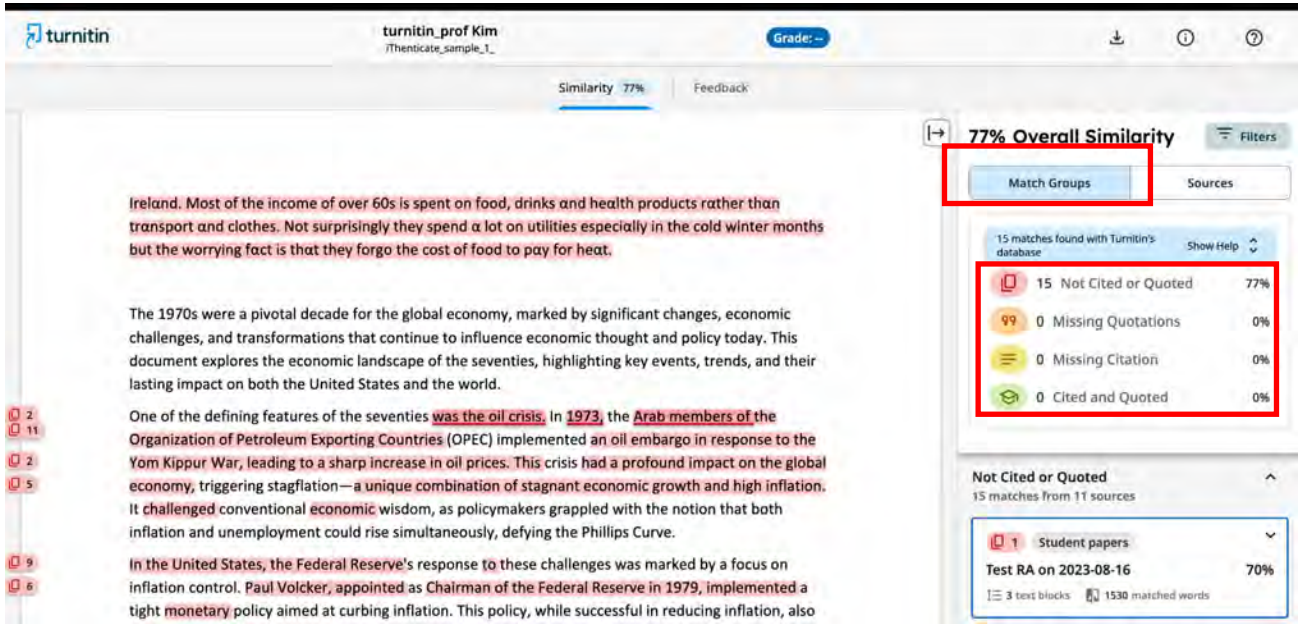

*Clicking "Sources" will display the matched sources, ordered by the highest percentage of similarity.

*The color and number assigned to each source correspond to the same color and number marking the matched text within your paper. Clicking these will take you directly to that section in your document.

* Note that a single section of your text might have multiple matching sources. By clicking on a source, you can view detailed information about where that specific text match originated.

2. Upon clicking ‘Match Groups’, matched parts will be grouped in 4 different categories.

*Not Cited or Quoted - The number of text matches that are not written as a quotation or has no citation to its original source.

*Missing Quotations - This text is cited, but the match is so exact that it may also require quotation marks.

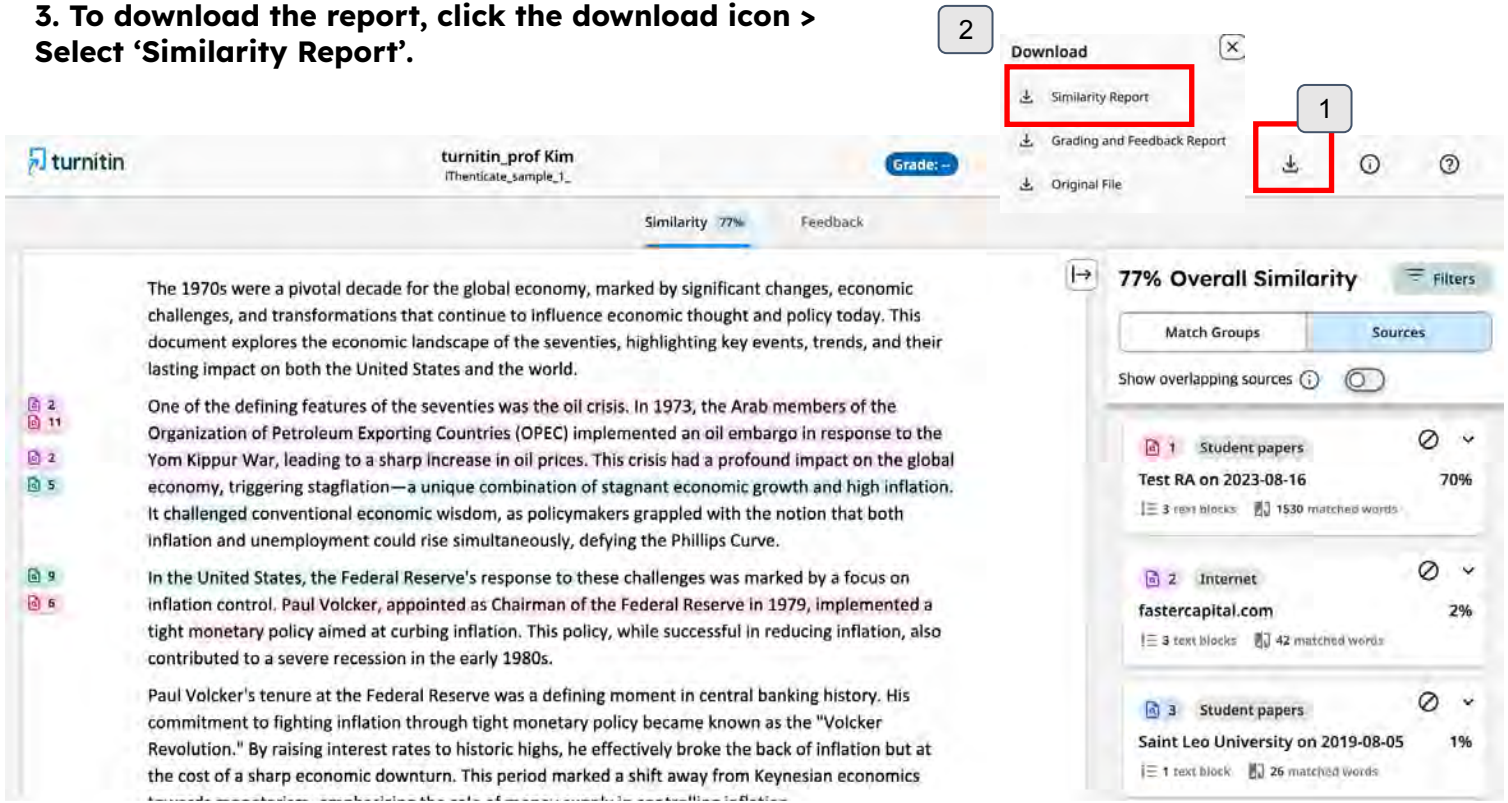

*Missing Citation - This text is written as a quote, but lacks a citation to its original source.

*Cited and Quoted - This text contains a quotation and is cited to a source. You may want to review them for your preferred formatting.

Additional feature (Filters)

4. These exclusion options are for your reference only. To apply them: click Filters > click the desired exclusion items > click Apply Filters > then click Return to Similarity Report.

1.Click 'Filters'.
2. 'Exclusion Filters': If there are items you'd like to temporarily exclude from the similarity report for easier review, check the box next to the corresponding item.

-Exclude Bibliography: This removes the list of references found under 'Bibliography' or 'References' at the very end of your paper.

-Exclude Quoted Texts (First Instance): This excludes direct quotes, such as those enclosed in double quotation marks ("...").

-Exclude Cited Texts (Second Instance): This excludes text where you've provided a citation.

-Small Matches: Do not change this setting.

3..After checking the desired exclusions, click 'Apply Filters' at the bottom.

-To revert to the original settings, simply uncheck the boxes by clicking them again, then click 'Apply Filters'.

4. Once you're done with the settings, click '<-Back to Similarity Report' located below the 'Filters' text.

Similarity Report

5. The very first page of the downloaded PDF is the front page, and the following pages include the overall similarity index and the sources list. Print and submit the first cover page, along with the subsequent page displaying the similarity percentage and source information of your downloaded similarity report PDF. (Always follow your submission center's official guidelines for precise submission instructions.)
